Examine the dilemmas physicians and scientists face when they do medical research: stem cells/cloning, organ transplants, use of animals/humans, etc. We will explore texts that deal with scientists and their creations: Frankenstein, Dr. Faustus, and Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. These fictional physicians consider many of the same dilemmas: cloning, organ transplantation, use of animals/humans. Finally, scientists and physicians—both real and imaginary—try to figure out what it means to be human.
