The day of the insurrection at the US Capitol in Washington DC was a day without historical precedent in US history. To mark its one-year anniversary, the UC Davis Humanities Institute (DHI) and the Department of History are hosting short presentations followed by an open discussion about what January 6 means, not least for the mid-term federal elections in November 2022.

All students, staff, and faculty welcome.

With Professors of History: David Biale, Gregory Downs, Justin Leroy, and Kathryn Olmsted
